September 5, 2018

Secretary James N. Mattis
US Department of Defense
1000 Defense Pentagon
Washington, DC 20301-1000

Acting Director Mick Mulvaney
Consumer Financial Protection Bureau
1700 G St. N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20552

Dear Secretary Mattis and Acting Director Mulvaney:

The undersigned military and veterans service organizations, representing millions of current and former servicemembers and their families and survivors, write to urge continued strong enforcement and supervision of the Military Lending Act, and to stand against any attempts to undermine or weaken it.

Broad bipartisan support led to the enactment of the Military Lending Act. Recognizing the risk to military readiness when servicemembers are targeted for high interest rates, Congress chose to cap the interest rate to servicemembers at 36%.

Servicemembers and their families suffer harm when predatory lenders target them with financial fraud and extremely high interest rates. As you know, maps of the location of payday lenders have shown they surround military bases and target the troops.

But the harm is not only to servicemembers. The harm also extends to the Pentagon’s costs and military readiness. The Defense Department has explained:

“[T]he anticipated benefit of [ensuring the Military Lending Act’s 36% interest rate cap] are the savings attributable to lower recruiting and training expenses associated with the reduction in involuntary separation of Service members where financial distress is a contributing factor. Each separation of a Service member is estimated to cost the Department $58,250, and the Department estimates that each year approximately 4,640 to 7,580 Service members are involuntarily separated where financial distress is a contributing factor. If the Department’s proposed regulation could reduce the annual number of involuntary separations where financial distress is a contributing factor from between 5 to 30 percent, the savings to the Department could be in the range of approximately $13.51 million to $132.52 million each year.”

We urge you to stand with the troops and against any attempt to weaken the Military Lending Act, including the Bureau’s supervisory and enforcement authority and the Department’s rules against predatory lending by all businesses, including by car dealerships.

Thank you.

1 80 FR 43559 (July 22, 2015)
Sincerely,

Air Force Sergeants Association

Patricia K. Murphy

Air Force Women Officers Associated

Ted Painter

Armed Forces Retirees Association
National Military and Veterans Alliance

AMVETS

J. Carley

Army Aviation Association of America

Association of the United States Navy

Blue Star Families

Randy Reid

Coast Guard Chief Petty Officers Association

__________________________________________

Code of Support

James J. Currie

Commissioned Officers Assn. of the US Public Health Service, Inc

Fleet Reserve Association

High Ground Advocacy

Iraq & Afghanistan Veterans of America

Ivy League Veterans Council

Norman Weisbrot

Jewish War Veterans of the USA

Craig J. Cavanaugh

The Military Chaplains Assn. of the USA
Juliana Mercer
MVPvets

Phyllis A.
Legislative Director
National Association of Veterans’ Program Administrators

Joyce Wessel Rager
National Military Family Association

Michael H.
Naval Enlisted Reserve Assn.

Service Women’s Action Network

Vietnam Veterans of America

Student Veterans of America

Robert S. Math
San Diego University Veterans Law Clinic

Larry Madison
The Retired Enlisted Association

Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors

US Army Warrant Officers Assn.

Veterans Education Success

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Bethany R. Keirans
VetsFirst, a program of United Spinal Association

Wounded Warrior Project